Action Learning Projects

Renogize will work with your company to identify a couple of real leadership issues impacting your organization. We will create real cases for the cohort to work through.

Possible project topics include:

- Leadership Competencies
- Building a leadership bench
- Succession planning
- Strategic plan around a new product/service
- Business plan for expansion

We will divide the cohort into teams of four or five and each team will be assigned a project. Through the program they will be implementing tools from the content into the project.

At the conclusion of the Academy, each team will make a formal presentation of their case to the leadership of the company. This allows the participants to use their new leadership tools in real time and it provides the company with solid project plans to the move forward.
